2. University Requirements on Subject Test Selection

EJU scores earned over the past two years (results from a maximum of four sessions) remain valid. Please be aware that Japanese university requirements of examination subjects and languages regarding EJU vary according to each institution. While some universities (or some departments/courses) require international students to take designated subject of the examination, other universities (or departments/courses) do not require students to take the examination. Also, some universities accept only the results of the 1st session (June), while others accept only the results of the 2nd session (November). They may designate the specific years and the number of exams that may be used when submitting applications. Therefore, before submitting your examination application, make sure you contact the university to which you will apply and ask about their latest requirements.

The list of schools offering “Pre-arrival Admission” using EJU (SAMPLE) is placed at the end of this book. (The “Pre-arrival Admission” is a system to secure admission to the higher educational institutions in Japan without having to go to Japan for the exam.) Some of schools publish their acceptance level or minimum required scores. Please browse the JASSO website for details. In addition, the list of Japanese universities that use EJU scores for the selection of enrollees is posted on the JASSO website. Please refer to it for selecting your school.

(5) How to Answer for Science

a. Science consists of "physics", "chemistry" and "biology". There is one booklet for science. Select two subjects from "physics", "chemistry" and "biology" on the examination day.

In case only one subject is selected, your answer for science will not be graded.

b. The answer sheet for science is double sided, so use each side to answer the questions for only one subject.

c. On upper center of both sides of the answer sheet there is a column to select the subject you will answer. Circle the name of the subject and fill in the oval under it.

If the selected subject is not filled in, your answers will not be graded.

(6) How to Answer for Japan and the World

- a. Row numbers 1 , 2 , 3 , ... are printed for each question in the question booklets. These numbers are also printed on the answer sheets, so fill in the one appropriate answer choice (① to ④) in the answer row with the same row number given in the corresponding question.

- Be careful because choices for the mathematics questions begin with a minus sign (−) while choices for other subjects begin with ①②⋯.
- The questions use letters ( A, B, C ⋯ ) as answer keys. The answer sheets are also printed with these keys, so fill in the appropriate numeral ( from 0 to 9 ) or minus sign (−) for each key corresponding to the same key in the questions.
- The answer sheet has rows lettered from A to Z, but you may not need to use all of them. Use only the answer rows needed to completely answer the questions, and leave the remaining answer rows blank.
- In mathematics, there are two types of questions. In one type, you fill in a numeral or a minus sign for each answer key (letter) ; in the other type, you select the appropriate answer from the choices.
- For questions where the answer requires a number or the minus sign (−), since each of the denotation letters corresponds to a number from 0 to 9 or the minus sign (−), fill in the appropriate numeral (from 0 to 9) or minus sign (−).

[Exercise]

[Exercise]

Q. For  $a=2^{35}$ ,  $b=3^{21}$ ,  $c=30^7$  is holds that  $\boxed{H}$

- ①  $a < b < c$    ②  $a < c < b$    ③  $b < a < c$
 ④  $b < c < a$    ⑤  $c < a < b$    ⑥  $c < b < a$

[Answer Sheet]

Answer within this range.

----------	-----------------------	---	---	---	----------------------------------	---	---	---	---	---	---

Since the choices for question  $\boxed{H}$  are from ① to ⑤, the minus sign  $\ominus$  or the choices from ⑥ to ⑨ are not applicable.
